

Summer has arrived and so has the season for celebrations, such as graduations (congrats Class of 2024!).

This month, Lindsey Architecture also has a lot to celebrate -- from employee achievements and news to completed projects and groundbreakings. Whatever the reason, we are always eager to celebrate with our employees and our clients.

I'm thrilled to share our celebration-worthy news with you.

HPCA GYMNASIUM

RIBBON CUTTING

High Point Christian Academy -- one of the region's premier private schools -- celebrated the grand opening of its new gymnasium last month. The facility opened in May 2024 and was celebrated with a ribbon cutting ceremony and dinner for notable guests. Attendees included faculty, staff, students, donors, community members, the design and construction team, and the media. Samet served as the general contactor.

STATESVILLE TERMINAL GROUNDBREAKING

Recently, our team had the honor of participating in Statesville Regional Airport's Groundbreaking Ceremony for the new terminal building scheduled to open in 2025. This three-story, $12.5M facility is a strategic part of the state's mission to transform it into North Carolina's top general aviation airport. Attendees included airport and City of Statesville officials, design and construction team members, including Samet Corporation, members of the community, and the media.

CONGRATS, AMANDA ## ON BECOMING AN ARCHITECT

Please join us in congratulating Amanda Wyrick, AIA, NCARB, for recently passing all of the required architectural exams to become a registered architect. With this achievement, she also received a promotion to project architect. Amanda will be recognized by the North Carolina AIA during its annual conference later this year.

JUST DROPPED: NEW PHOTOS

New photos of the recently completed High Point Christian Academy Gymnasium just dropped (thanks, Chris Groch!), and we couldn't wait to share this great facility with you. The 16,800-square-foot building houses an NCAA regulation sized basketball and volleyball court with two cross courts and bleachers for approximately 800 spectators, as well as two state-of-the-art LED scoreboards, sound system, and pre-game accent lighting. The facility opened in May 2024
