
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASELindsey Architecture celebrates 15 years of architectural impact

Greensboro, NC (April 24, 2023) – Lindsey Architecture celebrates 15 years in operation in October 2023 and recently kicked off the festivities with the launch of its 15-year Anniversary Campaign, #LA15YEARS, which celebrates its clients, people, projects, and community impact from 2008 through today. Part of the campaign includes the launch of a new monthly digital newsletter, which shares its positive impact on the communities where it lives, works, and plays. The campaign also includes an in-person, invitation-only, networking event planned for October, bringing partners, clients, employees, friends, and community members together who have helped shape Lindsey Architecture into the award-winning firm it is today.

Founded in 2008 in Greensboro by Rodney Lindsey, AIA, LEED AP, NCARB, president and founder, the firm has grown from a small, local aviation and industrial design niche firm to a multi-million-dollar generalist firm covering aviation, industrial, government, municipal, higher education, and commercial markets, providing architecture, interior design, and planning services for clients across the Triad, North Carolina, and the southeastern United States. In 2018, award-winning architect Emily Hinton, AIA, NCARB, was named a partner of the firm.

Notable projects over the years include: Piedmont Triad International Airport Renovation, Piedmont Triad International Airport Public Safety Facility (ARFF), Virginia Tech Hangar and Aircraft Storage Facility, TE Connectivity Office Renovation, Historic Shevell Building Renovation, multiple projects with the City of Greensboro, Greensboro Rotary Carousel, Greensboro Science Center Sciquarium Expansion, Moen Distribution Center Expansion, Battleground Parks District Phase I, Revolution Ridge Zoo Expansion at the Science Center, Boxcar Arcade, Southend Brewery, and the award-winning Greensboro Science Center Zoo Expansion, along with hundreds of other projects.

“When I started Lindsey Architecture in 2008, I had a clear vision for the type of firm and service the market and my clients needed and deserved,” stated Rod. “The past 15 years validated this assumption with remarkable design opportunities for owners and clients across the southeast, while positively impacting their organization, culture, operations, and bottom line. By focusing on delighting our clients with unapologetic personalized service, we built an amazing client roster with long-term, repeat relationships with owners who consider us partners and friends. We look forward to serving our clients, communities, partners, and employees for many more years.”
